

University of Groningen

Molecular genetic regulation of developmental leaf longevity

Shirzadian, Reza

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are advised to consult the publisher's version (publisher's PDF) if you wish to cite from it. Please check the document version below.

Document Version

Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Publication date:

2008

Link to publication in University of Groningen/UMCG research database

Citation for published version (APA):

Shirzadian, R. (2008). Molecular genetic regulation of developmental leaf longevity. [Thesis fully internal (DIV), University of Groningen]. s.n.

Copyright

Other than for strictly personal use, it is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

The publication may also be distributed here under the terms of Article 25fa of the Dutch Copyright Act, indicated by the "Taverne" license. More information can be found on the University of Groningen website: <https://www.rug.nl/library/open-access/self-archiving-pure/taverne-amendment>.

Take-down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Downloaded from the University of Groningen/UMCG research database (Pure): <http://www.rug.nl/research/portal>. For technical reasons the number of authors shown on this cover page is limited to 10 maximum.

Acknowledgments

My last important remaining task is to acknowledge those people who have kindly contributed or supported the works presented in this book. By considering this section in my thesis, I feel like my job is now completed. In this regard, I would like to refer to a popular statement from the prophet of Islam (pbuh) that said, “Those who do not thank people, do not thank Allah”. If I unwisely forgot to include your name in my acknowledgments, it does not mean my gratitude is less than the others.

Dear Paul, my esteemed co-promotor, I want to express my great and special thanks for all you have done for me. Your patience, creative ideas, critical points, fruitful discussions, comments, and in one word, your full support led me to work independently and improve my knowledge and ideas in molecular biology. You never passed by without questioning about my work. I am grateful for your valuable time, guidance and comments during the writing process. I would like also to extend my sense of appreciation to your esteemed wife Erlinde. Dear Erlinde, if Paul could spend time on my manuscripts, obviously, it was because of your help and understanding, which I really appreciate.

Dear Jacques, my esteemed promotor, my cordial thanks for your supports, special disciplines and motivations on my education and research activity progression during my PhD study. You always tried to keep me within the deadlines, which I appreciate. I am grateful for your fruitful discussions, guidances, positive or critical comments, which always accommodated my works, in particular, during my writing period.

Dear Jos, my cheerful colleague/officemate/friend, I am very pleased to be working next to you as well as for having many great moments in the Lab. Your perspectives, scientific dreams, suggestions, and our productive discussions were always nice and useful for my work as well as our friendly chitchats. I have learned a lot from you. I hope we will continue working together in the future. I wish you a successful scientific life. Dear Marcel, thanks for your technical supports in the Lab. as well as for your kindly helps outside MBP. I am pleased that you accepted to be my paranymph. Dear Bert, you have done a high quality job in the greenhouse taking care of the plants. I appreciate your friendly supports outside MBP. I am happy with our many pleasant cultural, religious and political debates during tea/coffee break times. Dear Eelco, I appreciate your willingness, patient responds and sufficient answers to my questions. I benefited from your presence in our group to discuss some of my experimental problems. Dear Jing, my former colleague, I am thankful for your excellent work providing fantastic materials for my project. Dear Tsanko, my former colleague, I appreciate your comments whenever I asked you a question as well as for your emotional supports during my illness. Dear Hans, thanks indeed for the translation of the summary and abstract of my thesis into Dutch. Dear Margriet Ferwerda, thanks for your excellent technical supports. Dear Oono, thanks for all your GMO advices. Dear Margriet Hulshof and Aukje, The MBP secretaries, thank you both so much for all your excellent helps regarding the paper works and formalities inside and outside the university. Dear Theo Elzenga, Luit de Kok, Frank Lanfermeijer, Marten Staal and Ger Telkamp, thank you all for allowing me to use the facilities at the department of Plant Physiology and for your useful suggestions. Dear Gerja, Bram, Jan, Alessia, Yeung, Floor, Tanja, Chissa and Bart, my students, thank you all for your excellent technical assistances.

Although we have lived far from our relatives and close friends, but cominucation with the Iranian community of PhD students and their families in the Netherlands provided a pleasurable and emotional atmosphere for us. Hereby, I would like to thank all of them particularly Dear Mohammad Bagherieh-Najjar, Farhad Nazarian and Hossain Moradi and their esteemed families for their helps and emotional supports during my PhD study.

Of course, I am grateful to the Ministry of Science, Research and Technology of the Islamic Republic of Iran for the financial support of my PhD as well as Dear Dr. Piri, Dr. Rahmati and Dr. Abdollahi as the scientific representatives of the Iranian government in the Shinghen countries for their friendly and fruitful advices and supports during my PhD study. I appreciate The Embassy of the Islamic Republic of Iran in The Hague for facilitating the official work paper processes for Iranian PhD students.

My colleagues at Guilan University especially Dear Dr. Mirhossaini and Dr. Ali Jafari, I appreciate your supports during my academic work at Guilan University as well as during my PhD study.

I want to thank my parents for their supports and back-ups they gave me during my entire life. I would like to appreciate my parents in law for their cooperations.

My dear children (Zahra and Fatemeh), I understand that it was difficult for you, always having a tired father who left early for work and returned home late during these years. I know it was my fault and I will try my best to compensate, although it might not be possible. Thanks Zahra, for spending enormous time in order to produce good results for my thesis cover and finally your efforts resulted in a good-looking cover.

My dear wife (Fereshteh), I do not know what I should say that help me to express my appreciation towards you. In fact, it would have been impossible for me to spend so much time on my work without your kindly supports, understandings and encouragements. You took over my jobs in several cases but never complained. You not only did your best for me, but also for our children. Thanks for everything.

Reza Shirzadian-Khorramabad